

HUNDREDS REGAIN SPLENDID HEALTH

Local Woman's Statement of a Remarkable Experience With the New Tonic.

"I feel stronger than I have for three months, and have only taken one-half bottle of 'Tona Vita,'" said Mrs. D. P. Woodson, of Marshall Street. "As a result," continued she, "I have all confidence in 'Tona Vita.' I think I will be able to walk around soon. I was in such a weak condition that it will take some time. I now sleep and digest my food as well as better than I want to continue taking it. I had been under doctors' treatments, but didn't gain any strength."

Similar statements by many other Richmond people are being received by the specialists who are introducing "Tona Vita" in this city. "When we began the introduction of 'Tona Vita' a few weeks ago we predicted that the man or woman who would give our medicine a fair test would become a walking advertisement for it, and judging from the results here in Richmond we are correct," said one of these specialists late yesterday afternoon.

"Any one," continued he, "who has been afflicted with anything of a debility condition, with no vitality or energy, a constant sufferer with despondency, stomach trouble, weak back, headaches and many other troubles—the symptoms of debility—is sure to tell about it when he finds something that will give him genuine relief."

Few of the public know anything about the symptoms of this modern plague. Half of the headaches and other pains in Richmond can be attributed to debility, and it should prove a source of general satisfaction to know that a preparation has at last been found to permanently relieve such a distressing malady.

While we are meeting callers each day, and hundreds of debilitated people are regaining their health through our medicine, there are thousands more whom we want to reach before we leave. If all the men and women who are struggling along in depressed mind and body by nervous debility, unable to get any real enjoyment out of living, would only take the trouble and time to come in and talk to us, we would bring a tremendous amount of happiness to the residents of this city. There is little real pleasure in life for an individual who feels continually worn out. Positively the very first dose of our tonic benefits a man or woman in this condition.

"We will continue to meet the public at the Polk Miller Drug Company, No. 84 East Main Street, from 9 A. M. to 8 P. M., during the rest of our stay in Richmond."

MANY DELEGATES FOR UNDERWOOD

Alabama Man Quite Likely to Get Virginia Vote in Baltimore.

While nobody can tell what will become of Virginia's vote in the Baltimore convention, it is said to be probable at least half of the twelve votes will be cast on the first ballot for Representative Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama. Democratic floor leader of the House of Representatives. Besides, should it be deemed desirable to apply the unit rule thereafter, Mr. Underwood, it is believed, would stand the best chance of securing the necessary two-thirds vote to get the solid support of the state.

Congressman H. D. Flood is understood to be committed to Mr. Underwood, while Senator Martin is thought to be very friendly to him. Friends of the Alabama man claim they can count twelve votes for him on the first ballot.

Everybody knows that the situation four weeks from today may be radically different from what now appears, and the Virginia delegation will be guided by the experiences of the moment. But, barring any great change, it looks though Mr. Underwood is in better position than any other candidate to secure a majority on the first ballot, and perhaps all the votes thereafter.

BITTER CENSURE OF CALIFORNIAN

was nearer to the Titanic than the nineteen miles reported by her captain, and that her officers and crew saw the distress signals of the Titanic and failed to respond to them in accordance with the dictates of humanity, international usage and the requirements of law. The only reply to the distress signals was a counter-signal from a large white light, which was flashed for nearly two hours from the mast of the Californian.

Most Reprehensible Conduct.

"An opinion such conduct, whether arising from indifference or gross carelessness, is most reprehensible and places upon the commander of the Californian a grave responsibility."

"The wireless operator of the Californian was not aroused until 3:30 A. M. New York time, on the morning of the 15th, after considerable conversation had taken place aboard that ship regarding these distress signals or rockets, and was directed by the chief officer to see if there was anything the matter, as a ship had been firing rockets during the night. The inquiry thus set on foot immediately disclosed the fact that the Titanic had sunk. Had assistance been promptly rendered, or had the wireless operator of the Californian remained a few minutes longer at his post on Sunday evening that ship might have had the proud distinction of rescuing the lives of the passengers and crew of the Titanic."

The committee believes many more lives could have been saved had the survivors been concentrated in a few lifeboats, and had the boats thus released returned to the wreck for others.

The only mention of a message to the White Star Line in New York reporting the disaster. The first official information, the committee declares, was the message from Captain Haddock, of the Olympic, received from the White Star Line at 6:16 P. M. Monday, April 15.

Attention is called to the fact that in the face of this information a message reporting the Titanic being towed to Halifax was sent to Representative J. A. Hughes at Huntington, W. Va., at 7:51 P. M. that day. The message was delivered to the Western Union office, in the same building as the White Star Line offices.

"Whoever sent the message," says the report, "under the circumstances is guilty of the most reprehensible conduct."

Wireless Man at Fault.

The committee does not believe that the wireless operator on the Carpathia was guilty in handling his messages after the accident, and declared the practice allowing wireless operators to sell their stories should be stopped.

It is recommended that all ships carrying more than 1,000 passengers have two searchlights; that a revision be made of steamship inspection laws of foreign countries to the standard proposed in the United States; that every ship be required to carry sufficient lifeboats for all passengers and crew; that the use of wireless be regulated to prevent interference by amateurs, and that all ships have a wireless operator on constant duty.

Detailed recommendations are made as to watertight bulkhead construction on ocean-going ships. Bulkheads should be so spaced that any two adjacent compartments of a ship might be flooded without sinking the ship. Transverse bulkheads forward and abaft the machinery should be continued watertight to the uppermost continuous structural deck, and this deck should be fitted watertight, the report says.

The committee deems the course followed by Captain Rostron of the Carpathia, as deserving of the highest praise and worthy of special recognition. His detailed instructions issued in anticipation of the rescue of the Titanic's passengers were "a marvel of systematic preparation and completeness, evincing such solicitude as calls for the highest commendation."

The Senate passed a joint resolution extending the thanks of Congress, together with an appropriation of $1,000 for a medal to Captain Rostron of the steamer Carpathia, and a vote of thanks to the Carpathia's crew.

The resolution was introduced by Senator Smith at the conclusion of his speech. It was adopted immediately without reference to a committee.

Safety Laws Introduced.

There were two measures introduced by Senator Smith. In one he proposed a thorough regulation of navigation by steam vessels following out the lessons of the disaster. It proposed enacting into law a variety of rules and regulations, and it embodied numerous recommendations for safety made in the official report of the committee.

These included a requirement that passenger craft carry a lifeboat for every passenger, a twenty-four-hour manning of wireless apparatus, making use of radio signals except for distress a misdemeanor, and provided technical details as to bulkheads, etc.

It called for a preliminary filing with the Bureau of Corporations of copies of incorporation and other papers by every steam vessel owning corporation, stricter inspection of vessels by Federal steamboat inspection service, and the meeting of all requirements of American navigation laws by every vessel clearing an American port.

A resolution accompanying this bill would create a commission to determine upon measures regarding life-saving equipment, and for governing the future construction of vessels. This commission would consist of a representative of the steamboat inspection service, a ship builder, a ship owner, a lawyer, a naval constructor and a naval engineer officer.

It was one of the notable days of the present session of Congress. Almost all of the Senators were in their seats and gave close attention. The galleries were crowded.

Senator Guggenheim, of Colorado, whose brother, Benjamin Guggenheim, was among the victims of the disaster, listened closely to the story of the accident. Many Representatives and others occupied the benches in the rear of the chamber.

LABOR MEN TO MEET

State Federation Will Have Annual Session in Lynchburg.

Most of the labor leaders of Richmond have elected delegates to the annual meeting of the Virginia State Federation of Labor, which will be held in Lynchburg, beginning next Tuesday. Phil Metz is the president and J. C. Davidson is secretary, both of these officers being Richmond men.

The federation will probably have about 100 members. Delegates from the Equal Suffrage League of Virginia and the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union will sit in the meeting. The league has already endorsed woman suffrage, and its legislative committee worked during the last session of the Legislature jointly with the committee from the farmers' organization.

A building permit was issued yesterday to the Virginia Railway and Power Company to erect a one-story brick, steel and concrete electric power-house on the west side of Fourth Street between Third and Fourth Streets, to cost $118,000. This cost represents only the building proper and the foundations for the machinery. When fully equipped with electrical apparatus the plant will cost approximately $200,000.

Other permits were issued yesterday as follows:

Mrs. A. Arrick, to erect a one-story brick garage in rear of 225 West Grace Street, to cost $400.

Mrs. Lucy Clarke, to repair a frame dwelling, 24 West Twentieth Street, South Richmond, to cost $300.

Mrs. W. P. McCook, to repair a frame dwelling, 120 North Twentieth Street, to cost $250.

Your Children Must Have Wholesome Food Do They Get It?

You think they do when you unquestionably prepare the most wholesome foods for them, but, think you, however wholesomely your food is prepared, they get it unless it is baked in a sanitary oven?

Would you expect your refrigerator to wholesomely preserve your foods if you never cleaned its interior? How can you expect your gas range oven—if it is a rustable steel lined, non-cleanable oven—to wholesomely bake your wholesome food?

But there is an oven and a broiler in which you can bake, roast and broil wholesome foods and know they are wholesomely baked and broiled, for in "Bucks" Gas Range the oven is lined with non-rusting cast iron, linings of snowy white enamel and easily removed for cleaning.

"Bucks" is the gas range of the age, for this is a sanitary age, and "Bucks" is the only sanitary gas range.

Are you coming to-day to make a "Bucks" your choice?

districts, the workers completed their assignments within thirty minutes.

The cards, upon being filled out, were returned to the respective district headquarters, sorted out and immediately distributed to the representatives of the churches named on the blanks. There was no friction or unpleasantness discovered, the most happy spirit of co-operation prevailing wherever men of different creed and faith worked side by side in the undertaking.

Had Powerful Motive.

While by all odds the most spectacular movement of a religious nature ever to be undertaken in Richmond, it was at the same time acknowledged to be the sanest.

The very nature of the work was spectacular, but the motive behind it the most powerful in the world. Nothing but the smoothest efficiency could have made possible the accomplishment of the plan, and the detailed organization of Mr. Durham and his assistants made possible that which most people regarded as impracticable.

The last fragments of the work will be cleaned up to-day, and by night-fall the thousands of cards will be in the hands of the ministers, priests and rabbis for whom they were intended.

Mr. Durham said that 47,000 cards were issued. Practically all were returned, the average number of names on each card running between three and four.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE

Mr. Dillon Explains Low Pressure Heating Boilers at Jefferson.

Nearly all the architects and those of allied professions in the city, along with a number from Petersburg and other nearby towns, attended last night the illustrated lecture of Henry R. Dillon, of the American Radiator Company, on "Low Pressure Heating Boilers." The lecture was given in the palm court of the Jefferson Hotel, under the auspices of the Richmond Architects' Association.

The lecture, which was for the most part technical, was illustrated by colored stereopticon slides, which showed the scientific methods of establishing standards of heating measures and how these standards are followed and applied in the construction and ratings of home heating boilers. Slides showing formulae for determining low pressure boiler capacities under varying requirements were also exhibited.

While Mr. Dillon's lecture was intended for men with an understanding of technical terms, it was such as would be of great value to any one contemplating the installation of a low pressure system.

This is the first of a series of lectures which the entertainment committee of the Architects' Association has arranged on subjects dealing with the practical side of the architect's office. Others will be announced during the season.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Lynchburg, Va., May 28.—Being unable to go yesterday to Lexington to be present at the banquet, which was given in honor of the successful season of the Washington and Lee baseball team, this afternoon received from the team a beautiful silver loving-cup, which was presented as an appreciation of the good work accomplished by him for the team.

The cup, in addition to the names and officials of the baseball team, has the following inscription: "Presented to Al Orth by the Washington and Lee Baseball Team, 1912, as a token of sincere appreciation of his services as coach."

The parents of the bride knew nothing of the marriage until the couple had started South on their bridal tour. The groom is a ticket collector for the Southern Railway, his home being at Savannah, Ga.

Struck in the head by a rock thrown by one of a crowd of boys, Willie Jones, a small negro boy, living in "Newtown," yesterday fell into the river near the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad bridge and was sinking for the third time when rescued by companions.

Jones, together with other boys, are in the habit of sitting on a narrow stringer over the dam while bathing. Yesterday they were there as usual when boys on the railroad bridge began throwing at them. The negroes were completely at the mercy of the gang, there being no place to seek shelter. Several of the young fishers proved good targets, and were affording great amusement to the crowd on the bridge. One of the boys was hit in the head and was bleeding. Profoundly from the shock, he was able to get to his home with the assistance of friends. His assailant escaped, but the police are confident of landing the right one.

Cara Break Down.

Because of a burst of a fine cable the double-header car on the Richmond-Petersburg line, leaving South Richmond at 7 o'clock last night, broke down near Redwood, and was towed back to the city. It was later by the limited car, due at 8:30 o'clock.

Three cars coming into the city attracted a great amount of attention, looking like a train coming down Hill Street. They were followed a few minutes later by the regular 9 o'clock car, which was fifteen minutes late in making the return trip.
